AUTOPHONE.

THE AUTOPHONE is a wonderful little instrument, which, while it weighs less than three pounds, has the lungs of a full sized parlor organ, and executes its Music with absolute precision and perfect effect. It has twenty-two reeds, plays in three keys, and all the parts of most difficult Music. It is the invention of H. B. HORTON, who was also the inventor of the first organettes, and this last effort is the result of years of constant attention to the study of this kind of instrument, and in simplicity, accuracy, volume of tone and compactness, is the acme of mechanical and artistic success.

On it, a child can correctly play, without instruction, any of its Music, which at present consists of over 300 selections from Hymns, Oratorios, Operas, Waltzes, Polkas, Marches, Popular Songs, &c. It is best adapted to the kind of Music which suits an organ best, in which chords predominate, but also has wonderful power in executing very lively pieces.

It is entirely well adapted for country churches, Sunday schools, the family circle, and also for dancing, For use in screnading it is perfect, as it can be carried under the arm. The Music is compact and far cheaper than that which is made for any organette. THE AUTOPHONE

Is like every other good thing, the longer you have it, the better you like it, and as new music is being published every week, it has an endless fund of amusement in it. PRICE INCLUDING FIVE PIECES OF MUSIC-$7.50. KELLY & WALSH-HONGKONG.

TRISH Boards of Guardians seem to have strange notions of their duties. We read that at the Listowel Board of Guardians a resolution was passed expressing condemnation of the general Parliamentary conduct of their county members, especially their recent action in support of the Coercion Bill, and declaring that they had forfeited their confidence. How do the paupers get on while these non-political gentlemen talk politics?

In our account of the late storm which passed over Hongkong, we stated that one of Messrs: Butterfield and Swire's lighters had come to grief, with a loss of between three and four hundred bales of matting. We are informed that the her besides .- Mr. Francis submitted that this had lighterinquestion belonged to the Steamboat Company, and not to Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, as all the lighters belonging to that firm were safely | ing on the case, as Mr. Bandmann had taken moored at Yau-ma-ti. We have been asked to make the above correction, and have much pleasure in doing so.

THERE is, says a London contemporary, a ridiculous rumor about to the effect that the Marquis of Bute is dissatisfied with Roman Catholicism, and would gladly return to the Anglican Church, but for the scandal he thinks his "trying back," in a religious sense, would occasion. There is, need scarcely say, no ground for such a rumor; and however few or many Lord Bute's recent attendances at Mass may have been, it is quite certain that he is as devoted to the Church of his youthful choice as ever.

THE War Office authorities have determined to make another change in the uniform of the Line. This time the alteration is to be in the right jacket, trousers, boots, and gaiters has long been is called the "Norfolk" pattern, the breeches to be wide and loose, the leggings of stout leather; and the boots extra strong. The color of the new uniform is not yet decided on,

Figure hears that an Englishman, the heir-presumptive to an ancient earldom, has been rejected as a suitor for the hand of a wealthy American her teens," frankly admits that the gentleman has captivated her heart, but "business is busieight, and though a widower, might marry again and have a son! The only concession she feels performances. Miss Mylford went with witness herself justified in making is that in five years' time, if all goes well, she may possibly be induced to whisper "Yes."

ACCORDING to a contemporary the question of the scarcity of gentlemen willing to accept Vo lunteer commissions under the present conditions of service, is forcing itself upon the military autocrats at headquarters. . There is little doubt that the expense of providing outfit, subscriptions, and so forth, attendant upon accepting a commission, tends, in a great measure, to prevent young men from joining the Service. Either [431] many of these superfluous drains upon the pocket must be discharged by the Government, or some substantial advantages should be accorded to the force to make it worth the while of anyone to accept a commission. Could not the Volunteer Service be made a means of passing into the Regular Army, on the same principle as that exist ing in the Militia?

THE Cup, which was subscribed for by the Stewards and Members of the Hongkong Race Fund to be presented to the Officers of the Inniskillings as a souvenir of their stay in this colony. has just been finished by Mr. Sun Shing, the well-known Chinese jeweller. The cup is of solid silver, and with its black ebony stand measures over two feet in height. The design is purely Chinese. The following is a translation of the Chinese characters on the cup :---Chu Kau Wai Shing "Your fame for valour has been illustrious for generations." Read "Shing Wai Kau Chu" beginning from right to left. Fong Chi Yung-Yau "You (not only) are brave (but) understand the proper method of using your bravery." A silver plate on the stand hears the inscription :-- "Presented to the Officers of the 1st batallion Royal Inniskillings Fusiliers by the Stewards and Members of the Hongkong Race Fund as a souvenir of the Inniskillings' stay in Hongkong," Mr. H. J. H. Tripp, the popular ! Clerk of the Course is sending the Cup to Singapore by to-morrow's mail, and we have no doubtthat it will be highly prized by our friends of the lnniskillings.

AUTOPHONE.

THE AUTOPHONE is a wonderful little instrument, which, while it weighs less than three pounds, has the lungs of a full sized parlor organ, and executes its Music with absolute precision and perfect effect.

It has twenty-two reeds, plays in three keys, and all the parts of most difficult Music. It is the invention of H. B. HORTON, who was also the inventor of the first organettes, and this last effort is the result of years of constant attention to the study of this kind of instrument, and in simplicity, accuracy, volume of tone and compactness, is the acme of mechanical and artistic success.

On it, a child can correctly play, without instruction, any of its Music, which at present consists of over 300 selections from Hymns, Oratorios, Operas, Waltzes, Polkas, Marches, Popular Songs, &c. It is best adapted to the kind of Music which suits an organ best, in which chords predominate, but also has wonderful power in executing very lively pieces.

It is entirely well adapted for country churches, Sunday schools, the family circle, and also for dancing. For use in serenading it is perfect, as it can be carried under the arm. The Music is compact and far cheaper than that which is made for any organette. THE AUTOPHONE

laisit Boards of Guardians seem to have strange motions of their duties. We read that at the listowel Board of Guardians a resolution was mased expressing condemnation of the general Parliamentary conduct of their county members, especially their recent action in support of the Coercion Bill, and declaring that they had forfeited their confidence. How do the paupers get on while these non-political gentlemen talk politics?

In our account of the late storm which passed over Hongkong, we stated that one of Messrs. llutterfield and Swire's lighters had come to grief, with a loss of between three and four hundred biles of matting. We are informed that the lighter in question belonged to the Steamboat Company, and not to Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, as make the above correction, and have much pleaswe in doing so.

THERE is, says a London contemporary, a ridiculous rumor about to the effect that the Marquis of Bute is dissatisfied with Roman Catholicism, and would gladly return to the Anglican Church, but for the scandal he thinks his "trying back," in a religious sense, would occasion. There is, I need scarcely say, no ground for such a rumor; and however few or many Lord Bute's recent attendances at Mass may have been, it is quite certain that he is as devoted to the Church of his youthful choice as ever.

The want of a rough campaigning AVE LATELY RECEIVED A SUPPLY jacket, trousers, boots, and gaiters has long been felt in the Service. These will now be supplied by the new order. The jacket is to be of what is called the "Norfolk" pattern, the breeches to be wide and loose, the leggings of stout leather, and the boots extra strong. The color of the new uniform is not yet decided on.

> Figuro hears that an Englishman, the heir-presumptive to an ancient earldom, has been rejected / as a suitor for the hand of a wealthy American heiress. The lady in question, who is still "in her teens," frankly admits that the gentlemanhas captivated her heart, but "business is business," and she cannot marry him, she says, because his brother (the present peer) is only sixtyeight, and though a widower, might marry again and have a son! The only concession she feels herself justified in making is that in five years' time, if all goes well, she may possibly be induced to whisper "Yes."

ACCORDING to a contemporary the question of the scarcity of gentlemen willing to accept Volunteer commissions under the present conditions of service, is forcing itself upon the military autocrats at headquarters. There is little doubt that the expense of providing outfit, subscriptions, and so forth, attendant upon accepting a commission, tends, in a great measure, to preven young men from joining the Service. Either many of these superfluous drains upon the pocket. must be discharged by the Government, or some substantial advantages should be accorded to the force to make it worth the while of anyone to accept a commission. Could not the Volunteer Service be made a means of passing into the Regular Army, on the same principle as that exist

There was not one performance passed at which Mr. Bandmann did not abuse Miss Mylford shamefully. Miss Mylford left the Company in Shanghai because Mr. Bandmann abused her so: Mr. Bandmann had shaken her (witness) repeatedly. He took her by the arm and shook her, leaving the marks of his tingers on her arm,

Mr. Bandmann made some audible remark again, when Mr. Fraser-Smith called upon him not to do so, and when the witness said her evidence would stop Mr. Bandmann's heroics.

She could not swear to the amount, but she thought she received 52 rupees as the proceeds of the benefit. Witness suggested that if he had mentioned the matter to him he would have arranged for £1,000. Witness told Mr. Bandmann he thought he would get himself into trouble. Mr. Bandmann said he did not care, that he would prosecute Mr. Fraser-Smith for libel and would have him in gaol before a few days were over. Witness suggested he had better be careful, that getting into law was one thing and Mr. Bandmann that it would be better for him to subject himself as regards Mr. Fraser-Smith to a breach of the peace. Mr. Bandmann said "No," he would have Mr. Fraser-Smith in gaol, He said he (witness) had gone down on his knees to Mr. Fraser-Smith. Mr. Frascr-Smith, addressing the Jury, said he would later on take into consideration whether under all the circumstances of the case Mr. Bandmann was justified in bringing a criminal action against him. The gentlemen of the Jury had which had been laid before them, a great deal of which he thought unnecessary, and when they took into consideration everything they had heard with the subpona. He was now Manager of the not detain them with many legal references, as ho

He would contend that these alleged libels were prima facic privileged communications and were published for his own justification, and in his own defence. If His "Narcisse" was played. Mr. Bandmann spoke | Lordship ruled that this publication of his was a privileged communication, he had no doubt that without the slightest hesitation the jury would come to the conclusion that they could only return a verdict of not guilty. If on the other hand, his Lordship, ruled that the communication was not privileged, he should still contend that there could be no other verdict which, after hearing the evidence, they could possibly arrive at. it quietly. Mr. Bandmann got annoyed, and The Jury were the sole Judges in this case, said he would not have lost the opportunity Their decision must indeed be ruled by the letter of the law, but they must also allow themselves to be influenced by that incorruptible essence—the spirit of justice. They were to give a verdict which the plain justice of the case demanded; they were not to became saturated with the legal technicalities which the learned counsel would doubtless urge upon them with getting out of it another. He suggested to great ability and carnestness, but they were to take the justice of the case, they were to judge the case on its intrinsic merits, and judging it on its intrinsic merits they could arrive at no other verdict than one of not guilty. Not only justice in his own person, but the liberty of the press was to a certain extent at stake in this case. They recalled the press privileges of the Telegraph, had it in evidence that long before Mr. Bandand withdrawn the advertisement, also that he mann had received the alleged provocation, he had heard Mr. Fraser-Smith had been getting into | was going about in the public places of the Colony and using expressions of the speaker and his newspaper of the most damaging character, Smith a scoundrel, a fraud and a cheat. Mr. Bandmann had gone about the Colony calling him a blackguard, a scoundrel and a great many other vile names even after he had sought revenge for the publication of these paragraphs. They had the tribunal where he was seeking redress 185 defamation of character, he had, in a public office of this Government, the audacity to use the term "scurrilous scoundrel" towards a man whom he was criminally prosecuting for libel. Was that ask them to send him (Mr. Fraser-Smith) to prison! Was that a man who had a right to would agree with him. If Mr. Bandmann had been so greatly injured, or had felt those articles so keenly as he said was the case, he would have had discretion enough not to go running about the Colony grossly insulting a man whom he was criminally prosecuting for libel. He contended that the alleged libellous matter him out, at the same time calling him a that he had seen Mr. Fraser-Smith go to the published by him for the bona fide purpose sneak and a contemptible worm. It was impossible that he could allow any such report to be going through the Colony without investigating it; and if he adopted, he used what judgment he possessed to the best of his belief to serve the end he had in view. He had no wish to take any proceedings at the Police Court against Mr. Bandmann, For. he purposed calling some evidence in rebuttal, the editor of a newspaper to take such proceedone witness, or perhaps two. The case was then lings was out of the question. It was the performance of a duty, and a very serious duty, which induced him to bring before the public the questions dealt with in the article about Mr. Bandmann's violence towards women and infants. His violence to one infant at least, two infants in fact, they had put before them, and he asked them to believe that that evidence was bond fide and true. Mr. Bandmann himself had acknowledged that he had assaulted one infant (Mr. Barros), who said he was a reporter on the Telegraph, so there was truth in that. They had heard Mr. Ogden's statement with reference to the Rousby case. He might state that Mr. Ogden never heard nothing about it from that gentleman until he heard it from the witness box. Mr. Ogden's story agreed with his own personal knowledge of the case. Mr. Bandmann had positively denied that he had been up at the Police Court, where the case was committed to the Criminal Sessions; Stipendiary Magistrates did not send cases to the Sessions without good grounds; however, the case was committed to the Criminal Session. Mr. Bandman had sworn, that he was acquitted, and he had a perfect right to all privileges which that acquittal gave him, and they were bound to believe that Mr. Bandmann was, found not guilty by a jury of his own countrymen. At the same time he would ask them to use their own judgment and good sense in dealing with the statement that he put before them yesterday, a statement which was common property, as common in which he had been. What the jury had to consider was whether he made this statement honestly, and believing it to be true. As they were aware he had no opportunity of bringing evidence to refute any of the statements whether the matter was libelious or not, and which Mr. Bandmann had made on oath; at the same time he was perfectly well the greater the truth the greater the libel. Under bring evidence to support what he had written open to them to state that it was not a liber would ask them to believe that Mr. Bandmann him (the Judge) to lay down the law of libel said about the affair, he could only say that Mr. | justified in defending himself. He asked them to think as practical men, of the provocation he had received from Mr. Bandmann before this article was published. Not only on the stage, before his own actors, had Mr. Bandman publicly reviled the editor of a newspaper, a leader in some sense of public opinion, a representative of a certain portion of public interests, but he had actually gone out of his way to revile him and abuse his paper, by going to his (Mr. Fraser-Smith's) clients, who advertised and subscribed to his paper, asserting that the Editor of the Telegraph was a blackguard, and a scoundrel, and making statements to the effect that no one in the Colony should take in the libelling, if he had libelled him, he was very take the ordinary course, but took criminal wound up by saying he was afraid he had detained proceedings most vindictively. Considering that the defendant was unrepresented by Counsel, Mr. Bandmann might have shown greater consideration, and reasonably been content with only one barrister. That was one more evidence of the vindictiveness of the prosecution. He would simply ask them to use their good sense in weighing the evidence. The liberty of the press was to a certain extent at stake in this trial; it would be utterly impossible for any editor to show the slightest amount of independence in public criticism, if their finding laid it down that "Tragic Power" was libellous. That so-called palladium of English liberty, the Press, which, as had been said, had wielded more power in England than the Lords, the Parliament, or the people,—the true principles of liberty so far as the press was concerned, were to'a great extent imperilled by this criminal prosecution. He should ask them to find that this was a justifiable occasion, that what he wrote was written honestly, and was what he considered to be a fair and impartial performance of a duty he owed to the public and himself. He thanked them for the patience with which they a man with honour unsulfied by any one thing

cutor in this case.

Mr. Francis then addressed the jury for the prosecution at great length, reviewing the law and facts of the case, and laying it down that if the jury thought these libels had been maliciously published they were bound to bring in a verdict of guilty. In finding such a verdict he thought they would be conferring a favor upon the public.

It being close on 5 o'clock when the learned counsel finished his address, His Lordship said that as a great many papers had been put in which required reference he was afraid he would not be able to finish his summing up to-night, so that, if agreeable to the gentlemen of the jury, he would adjourn the case until to-morrow at eleven

They were thereto return a tme verdict, and that he ever assaulted Mrs. Rousby, but admitted | in dealing with the case they must forget they ever knew either the prosecutor or Mr Fraser-Smith. There were great principles to which he would call on good evidence he presumed, for London: their attention, and he expected they would give their verdict according to those principles, He would now call their attention to the matters charged. The first question at issue was whether the articles were libellous. If it was their opinion P.M. they were not libellous, the case fell to the ground at once. The question rested entirely with them. In old days, before the introduction of Mr. Fox's libel Act, all the Jury had to consider was whether publication was proved. It was for the Judge to say whether it was a libelor not. That was done away with, and it was well that it was. Mr. Fox's libel Act was intended to secure the as a national poem in all the parts of the world greater liberties of the people, and left it to the Jury to consider whether a publication was libellous, or not. Great responsibility therefore rested on them, and he was sure they would exercise it properly. In criminal actions it was for the Jury to say truth was no justification. Indeedit was said that aware that he was responsible for all this. Mr. Fraser-Smith was charged merely with maliciously publishing a defamatory libel. The two articles were to be considered in a different way, as two different considerations applied to them. With regard to "Tragic Power," it was for them to consider whether it was a fair comment on Mr. Bandmann's biography in "Men of the Time." If a fair and impartial criticism, a writer on the public press would be entitled to comment on the biography, and the comment could not be considered libellous. The article to some extent was a parody on the biography. His Lordship read the article from "Men of the Time," and paper. TAT P. MOORE begs to inform the Gentle-VV . men of Hongkong and Visitors that he has reduced the price of Hair-Cutting to 50 cents. Having now in his employ three competent Assistants who are always in attendance, he guarantees to execute this class of work, in all its branches, with a perfection which cannot be excelled in any part of the World.

Hair-Cutting......50 Cents. Shampooing25 Cents. Shaving25 Cents. Trimming Beards25 Cents.

MONTHLY CUSTOMERS TAKEN AT REDUCED RAZORS MOST CAREFULLY RE-SET.

Mr. MOORE begs to recommend his GOGO SHAMPOO WASH to the public as unrivalled by any prepara tion ever produced for promoting the growth of the hair. The basis of this compound is made of soap root; the natives of the Philippine Islands never use anything else for washing their hair; they are never found bald, and it is quite common to see the females with hair from 5 to 6 feet long. By constantly using this Shampoo Wash as directed, you will NEVER BE BALD. The proprietor offers the Wash to the public entirely confident that by its restorative properties it will without fail arrest decaying hair. It completely eradicates scurf, dandruff, and cures all diseases of the scalp. It does not contain any poisonous drugs. By its cooling properties it allays the itching and fever of the scalp, which is the great cause of people losing

Mr. Moore has succeeded in being to put this wash up in bottles without allowing to ferment, and he will guarantee it to keep any length of time in any climate.

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' LETTERS. 1.—Privates in H.M. Army or Navy. Noncommissioned, Officers,* Bandmasters, Army Schoolmasters (not Superintending or First Class) Writers or Schoolmistresses may send half-ounce letters to the United Kingdom by mail at the rate of four cents (two-pence) each, which may be prepaid either in Imperial or in Hongkong Stamps. By private steamer the postage is two cents (one penny).

2.—The same privileges apply to letters addressed to the Privates and Non-commissioned Officers named above. 3.—Private steamers leave Hongkong for London about every ten days. 4.—The letters must not exceed half an ounce. No handkerchiefs, jewellery, &c., can be sent, even with the ends open 5 .- If from a Soldier or Sailer his class and description must be stated in full on the letter, the cover of which must be signed by the Commanding Officer, with name of regiment, ship, &c., in full. If to a Soldier or Sallor, his class and description, with name of regiment, ship, &c., must be stated in full. 5.—Soldiers and Sailors have no privileges with regard to books or papers, nor can these be

LETTER BOXES. Many boxes of letters are received at the Post Office not sealed, that is to say, the box is fastened with scaling wax, but there is no impression of a prepaid with Imperial Stamps.

The attention of boxholders is called to the necessity of carefully sealing such boxes with some recognisable seal, and of sending a chitbook or receipt with them. The emission of the latter precaution leaves a doubt as to whether the contents of the box ever reached the Post Office : the omission of the former, as to whether part of them might not have been abstracted for the sake of the Postage Stamps,

Commercial papers signify such papers as, though written by hand, do not hear the character of an actual or personal correspondence, such as invoices, deeds, copied music, &c. The charge is the same as for Books, but all packets of and under 4 oz. weight are charged 5 Cents.

TEA MUSTERS. Persons who send Musters of Tea through the Post in Tins are requested to have them made flat or square instead of round, as it is impossible to pack round tins securely in the mail bags. It is believed that the tea will travel more safely in flat tins, which are not so liable as round ones to be bulged in. 4 by 3 by 11 inches is suggested as a good size. AUTOPHONE.

THE AUTOPHONE is a wonderful little instrument, which, while it weighs less than three pounds, has the lungs of a full sized parlor organ, and executes its Music with absolute precision and perfect effect. It has twenty-two reeds, plays in three keys, and all the parts of most difficult Music. It is the invention of H. B. HORTON, who was also the inventor of the first organittes, and this last effort is the result of years of constant attention to the study of this kind of instrument, and in simplicity, accuracy, volume of tone and compactness, is the acme of mechanical and artistic success. On it, a child can correctly play, without instruction, any of its Music, which at present consists of AR. ABDOOL SOBHAN ABBASS. over 300 selections from Hymns, Oratorios, Operas, Waltzes, Polkas, Marches, Popular Songs, &c. It is best adapted to the kind of Music which suits an organ best, in which chords predominate, but also has wonderful power in executing very lively pieces.

It is entirely well adapted for country churches, Sunday schools, the family circle, and also for dancing.

For use in serenading it is perfect, as it can be carried under the arm. The Music is compact and far cheaper than that which is made for any organette. Is like every other good thing, the longer you have it, the better you like it, and as new music is being published every week, it has an endless fund of amusement in it. PRICE INCLUDING FIVE PIECES OF MUSIC-$7.50.

TRISH Boards of Guardians seem to have strange notions of their duties. We read that at the Listowel Board of Guardians a resolution was passed expressing condemnation of the general Parliamentary conduct of their county members, especially their recent action in support of the Cocrcion Bill, and declaring that they had forfeited their confidence. How do the paupers get on while these non-political gentlemen talk politics?

over Hongkong, we stated that one of Messrs, Butterfield and Swire's lighters had come to grief, with a loss of between three and four hundred bales of matting. We are informed that the lighter in question belonged to the Steamboat Company, and not to Messis. Butterfield and Swire, as all the lighters belonging to that firm were safely | ing on the case, as Mr. Bandmann had taken moored at Yau-ma-ti. We have been asked to the lady away from her home on false pretences. make the above correction, and have much pleasure in doing so.

THERE is, says a London contemporary, a ridiculous rumer about to the effect that the Marquis of Bute is dissatisfied with Roman Catholicism, and would gladly return to the Anglican Church, but for the scandal he thinks his "trying back," in a religious sense, would occasion. There is, I need scarcely say, no ground for such a rumor; and however few or many Lord Bute's recent attendances at Mass may have been, it is quite certain that he is as devoted to the Church of his youthful choice as ever.

MR. Herbert Liddell Cortis (the amateur exchampion), of the Wanderers' Bicycle Club, rode | the fastest mile on a bicycle ever recorded at the race meeting of the West Kent Bicycle Club, out of court. held at the Crystal Palace on June 3. In one of promoted by the above club, Mr. Cortis, starting | of the witness. from scratch, rode the full distance of one mile in 2 min. 43 I-5 sec. This is, indeed, a remark- her (witness) and Mr. Bandmann. Ata subsequent able riding performance, and ulterly eclipses the rehearsal, Mr. Bandmann swore at her for not previous best record made by the professional walking properly on the stage. The swearing rider, F. Cooper, in a match with the Hon. Keith Falconer, at Cambridge, in May 1880. Cooper | then rode a mile in 2 min. 46 2-5 sec. Mr. Cortis, however, beat that time record by just 3 1-5 sec.

THE War Office authorities have determined to make another change in the uniform of the Line. This time the alteration is to be in the right direction. The want of a rough campaigning jacket, trousers, boots, and gaiters has long been felt in the Service. These will now be supplied by the new order. The jacket is to be of what is called the "Norfolk" pattern, the breeches to be wide and loose, the leggings of stout leather, and the boots extra strong. The color of the nev uniform is not yet decided on,

Figure hears that an Englishman, the heir-presumptive to an ancient earldom, has been rejected her teens," frankly admits that the gentleman has captivated her heart, but "business is business," and she cannot marry him, she says, beeight, and though a widower, might marry again and have a son! The only concession she feels herself justified in making is that in five years' time, if all goes well, she may possibly be induced to whisper "Yes."

ACCORDING to a contemporary the question of the scarcity of gentlemen willing to accept Volunteer commissions under the present conditions of service, is forcing itself upon the military autocrats at headquarters. There is little doubt that the expense of providing outfit, subscriptions, and so forth, attendant upon accepting a commission, tends, in a great measure, to prevent young men from joining the Service. Either many of these superfluous drains upon the pocket must be discharged by the Government, or some substantial advantages should be accorded to the force to make it worth the while of anyone to accept a commission. Could not the Volunteer Service be made a means of passing into the Regular Army, on the same principle as that existing in the Militia?

THE Cup, which was subscribed for by the Stewards and Members of the Hongkong Race Fund to be presented to the Officers of the Inniskillings as a souvenir of their stay in this colony, has just been finished by Mr. Sun Shing, the well-known Chinese jeweller. The cup is of solid silver, and with its black ebony stand is purely Chinese. The following is a translation of the Chinese characters on the cup :-Chii Kau Wai Shing "Your fame for valour has ! been illustrious for generations." Read "Shing" Wai Kau Chu h beginning from right to left. Fong Chi Yung Yau "You (not only) are brave (but) understand the proper method of using your bravery." A silver plate on the stand bears the inscription : -" Presented to the 'Officers of the | 1st batallion Royal Inniskillings Fusiliers by the Stewards and Members of the Hongkong Race Fund as a souvenir of the Inniskillings' stay in ! Hongkong," Mr. H. J. H. Tripp, the popular Clerk of the Course is sending the Cup to Singapore by to-morrow's mail, and we have no doubt that it will be highly prized by our filends of the Inniskillings.

SUPREME COURTS CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

THE "TELEGRAPH" LIBEL CASE.

The proceedings yesterday commenced with the examination of Mr. William Porter Moore by Mr. Fraser-Smith. He deposed he was a barber and hair dresser, living at the Hongkong Hotel. He knew Mr. D. E. Bandmann, who was a customer of his at one time. He remembered the performance of "Narcisse" at the City Hall. A day or two after he had some conversation with Mr. Bandmann in his shop, Mr. Bandmann said he had turned the reporter ! of the Telegraph off the stage, that he kicked ! IT appears that the hull of H.M.S. Inflexible him off. He could not recollect whether Mr. Bandmann said anything about Mr. Frasersand pounds more than the amount originally Smith. He could not say if Mr. Bandmann gave particulars. He was quite positive Mr. Bandmann said he kicked the reporter of the the letter. Mr. Bandmann's doings towards her Telegraph off the stage. He remembered seeing | she supposed might have been to improve her as Mr. Fraser-Smith outside the theatre on the night "Romeo and Juliet" was played. He spoke to I rent way, Mr. Fraser-Smith about Mr. Bandmann kicking the Telegraph reporter off the stage. He subscribed to and advertised in the Telegraph.

Mrs. Ellen Ogden deposed she was an actress, and lately a member of the Bandmann-Beandet combination. She was a little over 20 years old. She joined Mr. Bandmann's Company In our account of the late storm which passed in Adelaide on the 25th November last. She entered into an agreement with Mr. Bandmann, and left Adelaide relying on that agreement. Mr. Bandmann made a great many verbal promises to her besides. - Mr. Francis submitted that this had no connection with the case.-Mr. Fraser-Smith submitted it was a public question, and had a bear-The Chief Justice ruled that the question as to the nature of the promises was not relevant. Mr. Bandmann made her sing the song several times. He afterwards came up to her and said she was not to sing it, used very bad language to her, and she left the stage... She went home to the hotel. Mr. Bandmann came after her there and said if she did not go back to rehearsal he would drag her there. She was rather afraid, and went back. Mr. Bandmann swore at Miss Raymond at that rehearsal, and she left the stage crying. The stage manager's name was Mr. Nunn. Nothing happened on that occasion between Mr. Bandmann and Mr. Nunn. At the first rehearsal of "Narcisse" Mr. Bandmann raised his hand to strike Miss Raymond, as a suitor for the hand of a wealthy American when Mr. Nunn stepped in between and told Mr. heiress. The lady in question, who is still "in Bandmann heought to be ashamed of himself. Miss Raymond left the Company shortly after. She said she would not wish to do so. She heard Mr. Bandmann swear at Miss Mylford at the performance of "Narcisse." Miss Mylford went into witness's room crying. There was not one performance passed at which Mr. Bandman did not abuse Miss Mylford shamefully. Miss Mylford left the Company in Shanghai because Mr. Bandmann abused her so, 'Mr. Bandmann had shaken her (witness) repeatedly. He took her by the arm and shook her, leaving the marks of

If she had known as much of Mr. Bandmann as she knew now, she would have never left Adelaide question was, "Indeed I would not."

Cross-examined by Mr. Francis:-Mr. Band mann had a called Miss Beaudet a b-y fool and a b-ch repeatedly, at performances and at rehearsals. Miss Beaudet had heard what was said to her. In "Narcisse" Miss Beaudet took one of the principal parts. Miss Beaudet was not there when the scene occurred with Miss Raymond. Miss Raymond had not been on the stage before. Witness was a pupil of Mr. Bandmann. She had been a little on the stage before joining Mr. Bandmann. It was a special stipulation that Mr. Bandmann was to instruct her; he had given her no instruction except in one part. He often did the duty of stage manager at rehearsals in giving instruction, and had placed her in position on the stage, but only in the one part. The stage manager gave the necessary instruction in all other plays. In all matters connected with rehearsals, Mr. Bandmann was certainly repeatedly taken her by the arm and shaken her, calling her a fool and shaking her. She was in Calcutta in December, January, February and March. She was not sure about April. The handwriting and signature in the letter shewn her was hers. (Mr. Francis said he proposed to put in the letter, which he read. The letter expressed gratitude to Mr. Bandmann and Miss Beaudet for kindnesses). When she wrote that letter she had reason to kel sore toward Mr. Bandmann, but he had been very kind for a while and proan actress, but he could have done it in a diffein Hongkong. Re-examined by Mr. Fraser-Smith-Mr. Bandmann gave her a benefit in Calcutta, and the letter was written a few days after the benefit. She could not swear to the amount, but she thought she received 52 rupees as the proceeds of the benefit. Mr. Bandmann's taking her by the arm, and shaking her, and leaving marks on her arm was not the way to teach her to be an actress. It never made her better.

lad who he was. Witness did not hear any reply. The boy appeared to be frightened. He then saw Mr. Bandmann take him by the shoulder, push him to the head of the stairs, and then push him down the stairs, attempting to kick him at the same time. He did not actually kick him. If he said he kicked him it would be a lie. Mr. Bandmann slightly overbalanced himself in the attempt to kick the boy, and remarked to him as he went down the stairs, "Take that to your master, and tell him from me that he is the greatest blackguard in Hongkong, and I would serve him the same if I could get hold of him." Mr. Bandmann then turned to witness, and laughingly remarked, "That is the way I would like to serve the Editor of the Telegraph" About a weekaster Mr. Bandmann and he were conversing. Mr. Bandman remarked blackguard that ever stepped in shoe-leather. He didn't know whether Mr. Bandmann had then taken proceedings against Mr. Fraser-Smith. The paper shown him was his agreement with Mr. Bandmann.-Mr. Fraser-Smith put it in and asked that it might when Mr. Fraser-Smith said he wished to shew of his journal, but, he thought, would have justibe read. The letter was read by the Registrar. Miss Ferguson, now Mrs. Ogden, Miss Raymond, and Mr. Starke also joined the company at Adelaide. Witness held an appointment on manager of the Company. She knew Miss Beaudet, the Government railway before joining Mr. Bandmann, and he was induced to leave that appointment by Mr. Bandmann's brilliant prospects. He had frequently heard Mr. Bandmann use coarse language to Miss Raymond. During the passage to Calcutta he had heard Mr. Bandmann with him. At the first three rehearsals in Calcutta, Mr. Bandmann cursed and swore at witness, and also at Mrs. Ogden, then Miss Ferguson, simply because she did not walk as he desired her on the stage. He remembered the rehearsal of Don Carar De Bazan at Calcutta. On that occasion Mr. Bandmann abused Miss Ferguson for not being able to render the song "Scenes that are brightest "as he wished. He followed her to the hotel. When he returned he cursed at Miss Raymond. After he did this Mr. Nun and Mr. Bandmann had an argument about the affair. There seemed to have been a disturbance between the two. Shortly after Miss Raymond left the Company, She was taken to the hospital. Mr. Moore begs to recommend his GOGO SHÄMPOO WASH tion ever produced for promoting the growth of the hair. The basis of this compound is made of soap root; the natives of the Philippine Islands never use anything else for washing their hair; they are never found bald, and it is quite common to see the females with hair from 5 to 6 feet long. By constantly using this Shampoo Wash as directed, you will NEVER BE BALD. The proprietor offers the Wash to the public entirely confident that by its restorative properties it will without fail arrest decaying hair. It completely cradicates scurf, dandruff, 'and cures all diseases of the scalp. It does not contain any poisonous drugs. By its cooling properties it allays the itching and fever of the scalp, which is the great cause of people losing

Mr. Moore has succeeded in being able to put this wash up in bottles without allowing it to ferment, and he will guarantee it to keep any length of time in any climate.
